VOL. XXVII

SOUTH SAN FRANCISCO, SAN MATEO COUNTY, CALIF., FRIDAY, AUGUST 27, 1920.

NO. 35

TUESDAY IS DAY FOR PRIMARY ELECTION

CHIEF INTEREST IN NORTH END OF COUNTY CENTERS IN FIGHT
FOR SUPERVISORSHIP; CONTEST FOR SENATORSHIP STIRRING.

Though no great amount of political talk is being heard on the streets there is considerable interest being felt locally and throughout the north end of the county in at least two of the contests which the voters will go to the polls to decide next Tuesday. The two are those between Thomas L. Hickey of South San Francisco and John Fahey of Salada Beach for the supervisors of the first township. Hickey, the present supervisor, has a strong backing throughout the district, especially through the southern part, and in South San Francisco, his home. Political prophets are saying he will break even with Fahey in Colma and Daly City as well as along the coast, where Fahey's home is located. Should he do so, Hickey's election would seem assured. But nothing is more uncertain than the result of an election, and Fahey's friends are working hard for him and many are boldly stating that he will be the next supervisor. However the election goes, the first district will have a good official on the county board, as Hickey has given a good account of himself, and Fahey is a clean, earnest young man who has spent most of his life in the district and understands its needs well.

Much interest centers in the three-sided fight for the Republican nomination for United States senator. Three strong men are after the nomination, Samuel Shortridge of Menlo Park and San Francisco, William Kent of Kentville, Marin county, and A. J. Wallace of Los Angeles. Shortridge will poll a big vote on the entire peninsula, where it is felt that he is the "home candidate." Kent is a former congressman and is making his fight on his record in congress and on his gift to the nation of parks, including Muir Woods. Wallace, former lieutenant-governor of California, is an out-and-out prohibition candidate and will receive the support of the dry element. He is especially strong in the southern part of the state. The winner of the Republican nomination will oppose James Phelan at the November election.

For the Republican nomination for congressman from the eighth district, Arthur M. Free of San Jose is opposing Fred H. Schauer of Santa Barbara, and the winner will settle the matter with Hugh S. Hersman, the incumbent. It looks in this part of the district as though Free would get the nomination.

State Senator M. Johnson of Montara and Assemblyman Frank Ekwad of Burlingame will have no opposition at either the primary or the general election. Each has made good nobody cared to come out in opposition.

Judge G. H. Buck of the superior court will also secure re-election without opposition. Judge Buck has held his position on the bench for nearly thirty years and is recognized as a most efficient jurist. He numbers his friends by thousands and it is believed will receive a huge complimentary vote.

Another contest that interests voters of this part of the county is that for associate justice of the appellate court. Two judges are to be elected, with three in the field, George A. Sturtevant, Frank S. Brittain, and John T. Nourse. Brittain and Nourse are at present holding the positions and have received the endorsement of Judge Buck, the attorneys of the county, and the county officials.

ENTERTAINMENT OF SOCIAL COMMISSION

The Social Service Commission were guests of Mrs. E. C. Peck at luncheon Tuesday. Those present were: Mrs. Charles Wood of Menlo Park, Mrs. S. Merk of Burlingame, Mrs. L. Patterson of San Mateo, and H. H. Smith of Daly City.

SHORTRIDGE MEETING HELD WED. NIGHT

Supporters of Senatorial Candidate
Gather at Fraternal Hall for Old-Fashioned Rally.

Local friends and supporters of Samuel Shortridge, candidate for United States senator, gathered at Fraternal Hall Wednesday night for a real old-time political rally. Though the audience that attended the meeting was not so large as to tax the capacity of the hall, it made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers. Both men and women were present and listened attentively to one of the most stirring addresses heard in South San Francisco for a long time.

Former State Senator Frank McGowan of Humboldt county was the speaker of the evening. Mr. McGowan is a speaker of ability, the arguments he presented in support of the Republican national platform and the candidacy of Mr. Shortridge were irrefutable. Mr. McGowan, a personal friend of Mr. Shortridge, was able to present the distinguished attorney as he is, a straightforward American citizen embodying the characteristics that make an ideal legislator.

A thirteen-piece band had been engaged for the occasion and rendered several selections on the street before the meeting in the hall.

FIVE HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Sanl Family and W. W. Brawn Almost Caught on Railroad Crossing.

Winn Wesley Brawn of South San Francisco together with four members of the Sanl family of Baden avenue, had a narrow escape from death Sunday night at about 10 o'clock. They were returning from a drive on the Marin county side of the bay and approached the crossing of the Northwestern Pacific railroad late in the evening. At this crossing near the Mount Tamalpais high school the railroad track makes a bend which renders an approaching train visible for only a short distance. At "School Station," near the crossing, every train is supposed to stop, but in this instance the train did not do so. The automobile with Mr. Brawn at the wheel was within a few feet of the track traveling rapidly, when suddenly the headlight of the locomotive loomed around the turn almost upon it. Mr. Brawn brought his weight down upon the brake, but so close was the track that in a flash he saw they would not stop in time to avoid destruction. With an inspiration that came in the fraction of a second, Brawn jerked the wheel about and threw the car over a bank into a six-foot ditch. The car was somewhat damaged and its occupants badly shaken up, but they escaped being ground under the wheels of the train. Only the fact that a driver of many years' experience and considerable quickness of thought was at the wheel saved the entire party.

Officials of the road have told Mr. Brawn that the railroad company would undoubtedly pay for the repairing of his machine.

VISITING SPANGLER FAMILY.

Mrs. Arthur Porter of Portland, Ore., and her two young sons, Leslie and Arthur, are spending two weeks at the home of her brother, M. L. Spangler of this city.

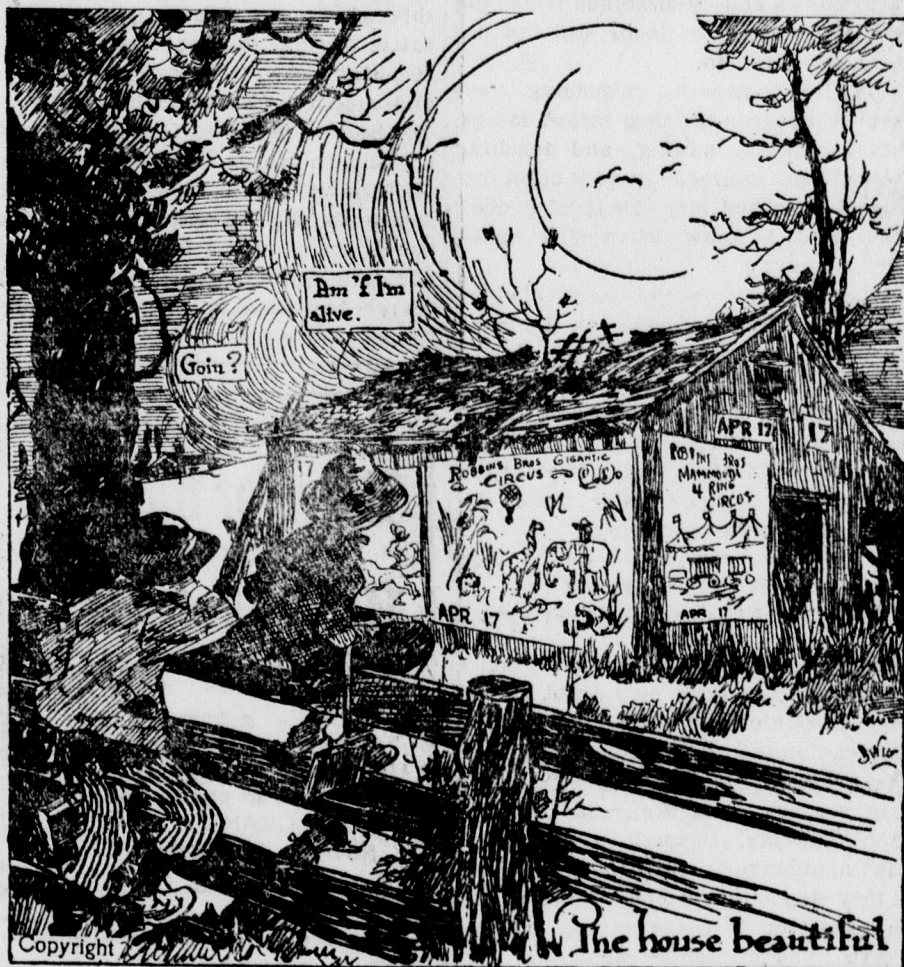

GUESTS AT HOLSTON HOME.

Mrs. G. W. Holston has had as her guests the past week her two aunts, Mrs. A. W. McIntosh of Roseville, and Mrs. A. G. Chatom of Turlock. Mrs. McIntosh will remain another week with Mrs. Holston.

GIVEN HEARING FOR LEWDNESS.

Joe Sales, a Mexican, was given a hearing in Judge Dowd's court Wednesday afternoon on a charge of lewd conduct with a minor child. J. O. Steele was the complainant. The man was held for trial in the superior court under $1000 cash bail, failing to procure which he was taken to the county jail.

SCHOOL DAYS

THREE DIE IN PLUNGE OF PLANE AT REDWOOD

Expert Pilot and Two Passengers Meet Instant Death.

Three men, a pilot and two passengers, were killed at the Redwood City aviation field Sunday when the Bristol plane which they were flying plunged to the earth from a height of 500 feet. All were dead when they were reached by the horrified spectators.

The dead are:
John C. Nelson, a San Francisco salesman.
Clifford Procter, British air pilot.
Gus Jamieson, a former instructor at the Redwood field.

The cause of the accident will always remain a mystery, because none of the passengers in the machine lived to make a statement. Procter was considered one of the most expert pilots in the world. He had wide experience during the war testing and driving many models of planes.

Spectators to the tragedy state that the three had been in the air for about twenty minutes. The plane had made a swoop toward the ground and had soared upward again to a height of about 500 feet, when suddenly it plunged downward full first.

Procter is survived by a widow and baby. Mrs. Nelson, wife of John Nelson, was among the spectators and witnessed her husband's death. The Nelsons were related to Mrs. J. W. Poole of Redwood City.

NO EXAMINATION NECESSARY UNTIL AFTER AUGUST 31

Ex-service men who were discharged in February, 1919, have until the last day of August to reinstate their war risk (term) insurance, without undergoing a medical examination. After that date they can reinstate provided they take the physical examination.

Men discharged after February, 1919, still have time for reinstatement without examination until the period of eighteen months from date of discharge has expired.

SUIT OVER GARAGE.

The case between L. R. Luttrell and L. A. Weber over the possession of the South City Garage will be heard in the superior court early in September. Luttrell is claiming a delinquency of several months in the rent for the place, but Weber will base his defense claiming that rent has been paid up to date, and states he has the receipts to back his claim.

DR. AND MRS. IRVINE GIVE DINNER FOR N. Y. FRIEND

Saturday night Dr. and Mrs. R. S. Irvine entertained at dinner Mrs. M. J. Ange of New York City. Mrs. Ange has visited Seattle and Portland and is on her way to San Diego. Mrs. Irvine was the guest of Mrs. Ange Sunday in San Francisco.

SCHOOLS OPEN WITH BIGGEST ENROLLMENT

With Many Still to Enter Capacity of Buildings Is Taxed.

School opened Monday in South San Francisco with the largest enrollment in the history of the local schools. The enrollment was heavy not only in the lower grades, but in the high school also. The seventh and eighth grades of the grammar school have been taken into the high school building this term, having been organized into a junior high school. This step is in keeping with modern educational ideas and South San Francisco is the first school of San Mateo county to take it.

The enrollment is still incomplete in all grades, both grammar and high each day seeing more scholars arriving. A number are working in the fruit and are expected to enroll in a few days. At present those entering the seventh year number 66; the eighth, 57; the freshman year in high school, 26; the sophomore year, 16; the junior year, 11, and the senior year, 14.

At the grammar school the enrollment is as follows: Sixth grade, 74; fifth, 73; fourth, 93; third, 96; second, 133, and first, 136.

In the kindergarten there are 26 little tots this year, the sessions being held at Guild Hall, near the Episcopal church. These youngsters are in charge of Miss Marian Mendizabal, who is a new teacher here this year.

LOCAL WOMAN'S FATHER WAS FAMOUS SCOUT, STAGE DRIVER

Mr. and Mrs. H. Veit of Grand avenue are enjoying a visit from Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Church of Brownwood, Texas. Mr. Church is Mrs. Veit's brother. Recently the Veit family and their guests visited Mrs. Veit's niece, Mrs. Maud Collins, at San Ardo, Monterey county. While there a family reunion was held, other members of the Veit family who attended being Mr. and Mrs. Lacura and Mr. and Mrs. George McMills.

Mr. Church has some interesting newspaper clippings telling of the life of the late C. B. Church of Brownwood, father of A. E. Church and Mrs. Veit. Mr. Church elder was a famous scout and Indian fighter. He was a friend and companion of William Cody (Buffalo Bill), and the two had many adventures together during the stirring days when the west was being won from wild animals and wilder and more ferocious Indians. The elder Mr. Church was one of the West's most famous of old-time stage drivers. He drove the first stage into San Francisco at the beginning of the gold rush. For thirteen years he was a member of Barnum's circus and was the first driver of Barnum's famous forty-horse team. He was a veteran of the Civil War and saw much active service. He died at the age of 92, and with him passed one of the old West's most picturesque characters.

ELECTRIC CAR CLAIMS VICTIM SUNDAY NIGHT

C. Carmagnani Struck While Crossing the Track Near Cypress Lawn Cemetery; Dies at Hospital.

C. Carmagnani, an Italian, 41 years old, and living at 2047 Carrol avenue, San Francisco, was struck by a south-bound San Mateo electric car near Cypress Lawn Cemetery Sunday night just before midnight, and so severely injured that he died early Tuesday morning at the South San Francisco Hospital, where he had been taken immediately after the accident.

The circumstances surrounding the man's death are in a measure peculiar. The track at this point is straight and an approaching car can be seen for some distance. At the inquest held under Dr. Brooke at the city hall Wednesday morning, Motorman W. H. Johnson testified that Carmagnani suddenly appeared out of the darkness and crossed the track ahead of his car. The car had stopped at a station only a short distance before, according to both the motorman and conductor, Felix Aigner, and had not gained much headway. Carmagnani succeeded in getting across the track, but the corner of the car struck him and knocked him to the paving of the highway with great violence. It is believed the man must have been intoxicated not to have seen the approaching car. It is known that during the evening he had spent considerable time at a neighboring road house.

After the accident the trainmen stopped a passing auto being driven by a man giving the name of H. Hansen, and the injured man was rushed to the hospital. Everything possible was done for him, but his injuries were such that death was inevitable. Dr. R. S. Irvine, who performed an autopsy, testified Wednesday that the bones of the man's face were crushed in and that his right leg was splintered.

A peculiar circumstance connected with the case is that Carmagnani is known to have had several hundred dollars in his pocket on leaving home in the morning, but that this money has disappeared prior to his arrival at the hospital. He is also known to have been with several cronies during the day, and an investigation as to where the money went may be held. Carmagnani's funeral took place Thursday from the undertaking parlors of S. Nieri, interment being in the Italian cemetery.

COAST RESIDENTS TO FIGHT R. R. TIEUP

The Ocean Shore railroad is not going to be allowed to discontinue operation if the residents and property owners along the right of way can prevent it, and organization of committees will be effected immediately to protest to the Railroad Commission against the abandonment and dismantling of the system.

Committees have been named at Halfmoon Bay and Pescadero, the southern terminus, and will work jointly with the committees from Montara, Princeton-by-the-Sea, Moss Beach, and Maine View. The joint committee will consist of thirty members, who will take hold of the problem confronting both the railroad and the people who have been cut off from service by the cessation of the road's activities.

It has been stated that in anticipation of an application by the stockholders to the Railroad Commission to abandon and scrap the railroad, two moves are in contemplation. One provides for the raising of a bonus to cover deficits in the road's finances. The other project contemplates cooperation with the road's officials, through the Railroad Commission, looking toward rehabilitation that will permit operations without a loss.

John G. Sutton, general manager of the Ocean Shore, has said that the deficits have increased so rapidly year after year that the owners now say they are through with putting up assessments to keep the road open.

LOCAL BAND PLAYS FOR HALFMOON BAY DANCE

The Liberty Band of South San Francisco played for a dance at Halfmoon Bay last Saturday night. They returned home Sunday morning.

C. OF C. TO HELP GET Y. M. C. A. FUNDS

BOOSTER ORGANIZATION HEARS OF THE WORK ACCOMPLISHED
IN THE LAST YEAR AND WILL HELP FINANCES FOR NEXT.

The South San Francisco Chamber of Commerce has taken up the task of securing for the local Y. M. C. A. the necessary funds for the next year's operating expenses. Last September it was largely due to the Chamber that the Y. M. C. A. opened its recreation and reading rooms in this city as well as its playground on Grand avenue, and at the end of the year the Chamber feels that so much good has been accomplished the past year by the "Y" activities locally that it is determined nothing shall now stand in the way of furthering the organization's efforts. About $6500 was raised for the "Y" last fall, and it is expected that as much more will be obtained this year. A canvas of the business men of South San Francisco is being made this week and a generous response is being reported.

The Chamber members listened Tuesday night to an interesting address by Arthur Rugh, a Y. M. C. A. secretary, who returned to this country a few days ago after several years spent in China. Mr. Rugh talked entertainingly of the work in Canton, especially of the difficulties the "Y" met in combating the gambling evil where great institutions recognized by the government are entirely given over to gambling.

Mr. Rugh gave interesting facts concerning the trade relations between the United States and China, stating that this trade last year amounted to $108,000,000, as compared with $58,000,000 the year before. The speaker declared that the Chinese trust the Americans more than they do other foreigners, as they understand this nation is not after territorial or other concessions from their country.

Irving Larimore, the local "Y" secretary, spoke briefly, telling of his plans for the coming year. According to Mr. Larimore, classes will be organized in athletics among the boys and girls and gymnasium classes among the men. Entertainments will be given at the hall through the fall and winter, as was the case last year, and these will all be free to the public, though in every case high-class talent will be procured for the programs.

Following Mr. Larimore, A. R. Mack of the industrial section of the Y. M. C. A. of San Francisco gave a brief resume of the expenditures for the year past and told how the money for the coming year would be placed, 90 per cent of the funds being expended in South San Francisco.

There was not a moment's hesitation on the part of any member of the Chamber present in saying that the Y. M. C. A. had been an inestimable benefit to the city in the last year and that the town must continue to benefit from its activities here. Most of those present signed subscription blanks for contributions during the next year. All of these donations were for amounts equaling the amount given last year, while in several cases last year's subscription was exceeded. Several wrote checks on the spot.

At this meeting President Dr. J. C. McGovern made known his appointments to the committee which will confer with the city trustees regarding the anti-gambling measures which the Chamber voted at its last meeting should be taken in South San Francisco. E. C. Peck, E. E. Cunningham, and J. G. Walker were put upon this committee, and will probably attend the next meeting of the city board.

E. C. Peck, for the committee recently appointed to meet with the city trustees to decide upon a room at the new city hall to be used as a display room for the Chamber, reported that a room on the first floor opposite the room to be occupied by the city clerk has been decided upon. This room will be kept open all day and will provide excellent display opportunities for the Chamber's exhibit.

HAS HICKEY MADE GOOD?

In his campaign for supervisor four years ago, Thomas L. Hickey stated that if elected he would work for a new county hospital, the old institution having been condemned by grand juries for several years. That hospital is now in process of being built.

Mr. Hickey also declared himself for a commission control of the outdoor county relief, formerly under direct control of the board of supervisors. That commission control of this most important branch of county government has been most successful, may be judged from the following letter received recently by the supervisors from the State Board of Charities and Corrections:

"August 20, 1920.

"To the Honorable the Board of Supervisors, San Mateo County, California—Gentlemen: One of our agents has just completed a survey of the work done by your Social Service Commission in San Mateo county, in co-operation with your board. A review of this survey leads us to the statement that we feel the board of supervisors of San Mateo and its citizens have every reason to feel proud of the most excellent social work that has been done by this commission.

"We quote a paragraph from the report referred to, which exemplifies very clearly the spirit of the work as seen by our agent:

"The members of the commission and the staff of workers, as far as seen, were unanimous in their statements that back of all the good work done by the Social Service Commission and making it possible, is the fine spirit of the San Mateo board of supervisors. It is evident that the supervisors have seen the advantage to the county which accrues from preventive social work and as business men are willing to encourage any movement to cut down indigency and to make better citizens. The workers insist, moreover, that the supervisors look at it not only from a money-saving angle, but that they have shown a real human interest in the cases of unfortunates brought to their notice and have made personal efforts to help.

"The plans of the new San Mateo county hospital are almost ready for action. The supervisors have consulted men who are acknowledged experts in hospital construction and have carefully weighed all considerations. The results undoubtedly will be an institution which will be a credit to the county and one of the best in the state."

"The people of San Mateo county owe a debt of gratitude to their supervisors for inauguration of this county social work and because they have supported it in spirit as well as in funds. Our report shows that this work has been carried out very economically and efficiently and it compares most efficiently with work done in any county of the state.

"Very truly yours,

"STATE BOARD OF CHARITIES AND CORRECTIONS.

"By B. H. PENDLETON, County Chairman."

Several items from the annual report of expenditures of the commission made June 30, 1920, are interesting, as showing how the money appropriated to the commission was spent. Here are a few: Board and care of children, $3085.59; drugs and medical supplies, $795.14; groceries, $950.49; hospital and medical service, $1766.33; milk, $1295.16; shoes and clothing, $1079.93.

Today every effort is being made by the commission to put indigent families on their feet again.

Mr. Hickey has also used his influence to get a square deal for the men working for the county. The result has been that the wages of county employees have been raised twice in the last two years to keep pace with advancing living costs.

All this is irrefutable evidence as to whether Mr. Hickey has made good.—Adv't.

MRS. J. KELLEY GIVES PARTY FOR NEW YORK FRIEND

Mrs. Jack Kelley entertained a number of friends at a dinner party at her home on Tuesday night, in honor of Miss Marie McGrath of New York. Those present were Frank Coffey of Watsonville, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McGrath and daughter, Louise, of San Mateo.

DRASTIC STEPS TAKEN TO CONSERVE POWER

Declaring that the electric power shortage had reached the point where all essential enterprises in the northern and central part of California are seriously affected, Power Administrator H. G. Butler, following up his drastic order of last Thursday cutting the delivery of electric energy by 20 per cent, Monday sent to the mayors of all the cities in the district where the shortage prevails a letter urging them to conserve power. Butler says:

Great effort is being made to protect the growing crops and perishable foods, but in all other industries the shortage will result in decreased production, unemployment, and financial loss as well as great personal inconvenience to your citizens. Any power that can be saved by restrictions on non-essential uses will lighten this burden.

Because of the seriousness of the situation, Butler asks the city officials to take immediate steps to:

(a) Co-operate with the power companies in abolishing all sign and display lighting.

(b) Reduce municipal use of electricity to the minimum consistent with public safety.

(c) Urge upon your citizens a moral obligation and civic duty to economize in the use of electricity in stores, offices, and homes.

Butler says that the restrictions will be removed at the earliest possible date, but that it may be necessary to maintain them until the fall rains replenish the streams which supply the hydro-electric plants.

SHORTRIDGE TRAINED IN RANKS OF LABOR

Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican candidate for United States senator, who started his career in the ranks of labor, is receiving the endorsement of the great leaders of labor and the support of working men and women throughout the state.

Shortridge knows and understands labor from experience as a workingman, and will fight the battles of labor in the United States senate with the same sincerity that has marked his consistent upholding of labor's principles throughout his career. In a recent address, Shortridge said:

"If I am not much of a lawyer, or much of anything else, I do claim to be a first-class blacksmith and one who knows and understands labor, the great principles of labor and the life of a workingman.

"Selling papers, sweeping out school houses, lighting street lamps, blacksmithing, mining, and teaching school—all claimed my attention before I launched into the legal profession, and I know whereof I speak when I say:

"Labor here on the street, in the shop, in the mine, yonder on the farm, in the forest, on the railroad, on the ship—labor in the schoolroom, in the pulpit—labor of hand and brain, manly and godlike labor—upon labor rests the prosperity of our state, the destiny of our nation, upon labor rests the very civilization we enjoy."

OAKLAND WANTS S. P. TO BUILD A NEW STATION

Declaring that notwithstanding many requests made for a new depot by the city of Oakland the Southern Pacific still maintains an inadequate depot in the heart of the city, city officials of Oakland asked the Railroad Commission Tuesday, through a complaint filed against the railroad company, for a new depot in the block bounded on the east by Webster street, on the north by Fourteenth street, on the west by Franklin street and on the south by Thirteenth street. The entire block is owned, according to the Oakland officials, by the Southern Pacific. The depot now located on the southwest corner of the block was built thirty-five years ago and, according to the complainants, is "old, dilapidated, antiquated and totally unfit or suitable for the use of passengers." The complaint declares "that a new, modern, fireproof, attractive and commodious depot of an arcade type ought to be constructed."

Conundrum.

Why is a woman making light bread like an editor writing a bum joke? Because she kneads something to fill up with.

UCCELLI HAS TRUCK SMASHED ON HIGHWAY

Joseph Uccelli, who has a vegetable farm near South San Francisco, had his delivery truck badly damaged near Cypress Lawn Cemetery at about 2 o'clock Thursday morning. Uccelli was bound for the city with a load of garden produce, when he was run into by a man coming from the direction of San Francisco and driving a fine big Locomobile auto. Neither driver was injured, but both machines were badly damaged. Uccelli declares he was on the right side of the road and that the other man must have been drunk to have struck him as he did.

DON FUNGE IS TAKEN BY LOS ANGELES POLICE

Don Funge of Colma, well known throughout San Mateo county as a cattle dealer, and for whom his wife recently swore to a warrant charging non-support of his two minor children, has been arrested in Los Angeles, according to word received by Judge Johnson of Daly City. Mrs. Funge swore to the warrant for her husband's arrest before Judge W. J. Smith of South San Francisco. A state-wide search has been going on for Funge for several weeks.

George G. Hughes, secretary of the San Bruno Chamber of Commerce, attended a convention of secretaries of commercial organization of the northern section of California at Petaluma last Saturday. George Clarke, prominent local merchant, acted as secretary during Mr. Hughes' absence.

BOY SCOUTS MAKE PLANS.

Troop 72, Boy Scouts, San Bruno, held its regular meeting Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Lindsey. The boys made plans for the near future, encouraged by the commissioners, who were also present.

Scoutmaster Galleher states that with the starting of school the boys' interest has increased many fold. Next Thursday evening an intratrop basketball game will be staged.

Every one of this organization is working his utmost for the entertainment to be given in October.

PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

To carry the mother-love and mother-thought into all that concerns or touches childhood in home, school, church, or state; to raise the standard of home life; to develop wiser, better-trained parenthood; to bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parent and teacher may co-operate intelligently in the education of the child—these are the aims and purposes of the parent-teacher associations that are rapidly growing in numbers and membership in every city, town, and village of the nation. With these aims before them, the members of the San Bruno Parent-Teacher Association are planning many helps for our schools during the coming year. Tuesday an enthusiastic meeting was held at Edgemont school, in which teachers joined with the mothers in plans for betterments. Mr. McCuen, the principal of the schools, addressed the association upon the needs of athletic training for both boys and girls, and spoke at length upon the program he wishes to carry out. Mr. McCuen made an earnest plea to the parents for their support and help to enable the teachers to do their very best. To encourage interest and induce the parents to attend these association meetings, the following reward is to be offered: To the schoolroom having the most mothers over ten in number attending each regular meeting, a party will be given by the club to the children of that room the following Friday after the regular meeting, which comes on the third Tuesday of each month, and to the room having the largest number attending all the meetings throughout the year, a picnic will be given those pupils at the end of the year. A committee has in charge the purchase of playground apparatus. Another committee will look into the possibilities of planting a row of eucalyptus and cypress trees for a windbreak west of the Edgemont school. A plan for improving the Northbrae grounds is being considered and will be further discussed at the next meeting, to be held at Northbrae school, September 21st, at 2:30 o'clock.

BASEBALL.

The San Bruno firemen's baseball team defeated the Avolin Club Sunday by a score of 11 to 2. The game was very dull, owing to the lack of ability on the part of the visitors. Hodson pitched a good brand of ball and was never in jeopardy at any stage of the game. J. Shaughnessy worked the last two innings and showed up well.

The much-needed change in the lineup proved that some of the players have not been playing as well as they might.

The firemen are scheduled to cross bats with the South San Francisco ball club Sunday at 2:30.

BIRTHS.

Mrs. Ralph Lane (nee Margaret Fraser) gave birth to a baby girl August 12th. Mother and daughter are doing fine.

Mrs. Walter Sweeny (nee Partidge), formerly of San Bruno, gave birth to a baby girl at the Red Cross Hospital August 10th.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Jacobson are the proud parents of a baby girl, born August 14th. The Jacobsons' many friends extend congratulations.

TRUSTEES HOLD AN IMPORTANT MEETING

City Officials Establish Record for Large Amount of City Business Transacted.

The board of trustees met in regular session Wednesday evening, Mayor Grundy presiding.

Wednesday evening, September 8th, at 8 o'clock, the trustees will hear any and all protests against further procedure in the purchase by the city of the present water system. Protests regarding improvement work, paving of streets, laying sidewalks, etc., in San Bruno proper and First addition will also be heard at this meeting. Every one who is interested should attend.

The most important business transacted at Tuesday night's meeting was the fixing of the tax rate for the coming year at 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation. A special tax of 10 cents per $100 was also levied. This special tax is to take care of delinquent assessments on old improvement work, which are now due. The assessed valuation of the city has been raised to slightly over $3,000,000. This is an increase of approximately 60 per cent as compared with last year.

City Clerk Nettie A. Willits reported the total receipts for this month to date at $1156.25 and a total of disbursements of $2802.13. The present working balance in the various depository banks is $9308.04. The city clerk wishes to state to the public that payments for water consumed are coming in slowly and urges that all water users pay their bills promptly, as this greatly facilitates matters. Report was accepted as read.

City Treasurer Cunningham's report coincided with that of the city clerk.

City Attorney J. F. Davis advised the board that he had been served with a summons for a suit pertaining to certain action taken by representatives of the city. He was instructed to associate himself with Attorney O'Keefe, who has already been retained by one of the defendants. Davis reported he had been unable to arrange a time suitable to R. H. Smith when they would go over the sewer proposition on the marsh.

City Marshal William F. Wedell reported that he had been unable to find any one living in the shack in Fourth addition. He reported total receipts of $109.50 from licenses. The total amount of the fines levied amount to $120.

City Recorder J. A. Custer reported the collection of $120 in fines from traffic violators.

A permit was granted to J. A. Cunningham of Belle Air Park to build an addition to a shed.

A permit was granted to Mr. Bedford of Fourth addition to rebuild his present home providing existing ordinances are not violated, especially the ordinance dealing with plumbing.

A number of claims were ordered paid.

Fire and Light Commissioner Kane reported new lights can not be installed at the present time owing to the severe water shortage. He also reported that the firemen are drawing up plans and specifications for the proposed addition to the firehouse.

Public Works Commissioner J. T. O'Connor reported the septic tank in Belle Air had been fixed and is now operating. He reported that it was not feasible at the present time to construct a bridge across the creek in Fourth addition connecting Cypress avenue and Crystal Springs road. The Belgrano property has not been torn down as yet. Several offers to buy have been made and Commissioner O'Connor was instructed to sell at the best possible price.

A resolution concerning vehicle licenses was taken into consideration. An ordinance making the act of wasting water a misdemeanor was introduced.

The city marshal was notified that persons owning animals for breeding purposes must keep same in a closed yard. Violators are subject to fine and imprisonment on grounds of maintaining a public nuisance.

The city marshal requested the board of trustees to furnish him with a motorcycle. The matter was referred to an executive meeting, at which time the trustees and the marshal will discuss the subject more fully.

A communication from the water board recommended the dismissal of Ed Ashley, effective August 15th, and the hiring of Charles Butow to take his place. The recommendation was accepted.

City Clerk Willits' request for extra help on the assessment roll was granted.

Mrs. Zelbert of Huntington Park requested more sewer pipe laid in order that she may connect up with same. The matter was referred to the board of public works.

A request for a license to operate a poolroom was received from W. H. Martin and granted.

Frank Steward filed an application for the office of poundman on a basis of $25 per month salary, all impounding fees to be returned to the city. This matter will be taken care of in the executive meeting to be held later.

During public discussion Patrick Sullivan, John Schiff, and W. Rapsey spoke on the present water supply system.

The meeting adjourned at 10:25, going on record as one of the fastest meetings held for a long time.

MUNICIPAL MARKET RESULTS.

The San Bruno municipal market, the first of its kind in San Mateo county, has proven beyond a doubt that such a proposition is absolutely sound. One of the biggest results obtained has been to get local merchants to carry better vegetables at lower prices. Another result has been the advertising obtained. Passing motorists have been purchasing heavily of fresh goods under the prevailing market prices, and one satisfied customer brings another.

Even greater success is looked for next year, for the people will have grasped the possibilities and many will be encouraged to "farm" that vacant lot, and thereby add to the family income. Dr. F. H. Smith, George Clark, and F. C. Russell have worked faithfully and hard to make this project a success, and they have been backed up by the citizens of San Bruno, who appreciate the efforts of these enterprising men.

FRED SHEDICK IN HOSPITAL AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT

Fred (Fritz) Shedick of Fifth addition is lying at the Red Cross Hospital in a very critical condition as the result of his losing control of his motorcycle and colliding with two pedestrians, Mrs. Du Art and her daughter of Burlingame. Mrs. Du Art had both legs broken and her daughter was severely bruised and cut.

Young Shedick was not expected to live yesterday, as he was unconscious for over seven hours. Latest reports, however, are more encouraging. Shedick was recently discharged from the hospital as a result of a previous accident.

Fritz Shedick is improving as well as can be expected, according to the latest reports.

ATTEND DEVELOPMENT MEET.

A delegation of San Bruno citizens, composed of Dr. F. H. Smith, P. J. Sullivan, Paul Schmidt, and George Hughes, attended a meeting of the California State Development Board last Friday. The meeting was held at the Fair building in San Francisco.

CENTER CLUB ACTIVITIES.

The Center Club held its regular meeting last Friday evening at California Hall. Much interest is being shown by the members. The committee for the last dance reported a fair profit.

The club intends to put a basketball team in the field this season. Practice has started already. Any one who can play the game is welcome to come up to the hall and help give the team competition.

HELP THE Y. M. C. A.

This week contributions are being taken to finance the local Y. M. C. A. for the coming year. This is a cause that is worthy the support of every resident of this city. The Y. M. C. A. has done a splendid work here during the last year, a work this city cannot afford to get along without. A recreation room has been provided where hundreds of men and boys have spent hundreds of leisure hours during the year past. In connection a fine, large, well-lighted reading room has been provided where scores of magazines and newspapers are always on hand for the use of those frequenting the place, and again hundreds have taken advantage of this room. The "Y" has to all practical intents and purposes provided a club room for the workmen of the city. Gymnasium apparatus and shower baths are always available and have proven a very popular feature.

One of the greatest advantages South San Francisco has derived from the "Y" activities here comes from the children's playground on Grand avenue. The city has no playground for its children, and anybody doubting the appreciation of the children for the ground which the "Y" fitted up for them needs only to pass the ground any sunny day and observe the swarms of little ones enjoying the swings, teeters, slide, and other equipment, to be convinced.

It all simmers down to this proposition: The Y. M. C. A. can very well get along without South San Francisco, but this city cannot and should not get along without the Y. M. C. A. Let's all help to keep it here and to put it on a financial footing that will enable it to do the most good possible.

CAPITAL, THE FRUIT OF LABOR.

"Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit."—John xii:24.

God made no mistake in creation. The desire of men to save and invest and acquire wealth for themselves is a blessing to the world; for they cannot do this without benefiting their fellow men, whether they wish to benefit them or not. All that men save and invest, helps other people to get a living. It is all, or substantially all, paid out in wages, and the more they save and the richer they grow, the more they pay out in wages, and the things produced continually furnish a new fund for saving, investing, and increase in wages. This is the explanation of good employment and high wages in "capitalist" countries, such as the United States.

All having involves sacrifice. He who saves wheat for seed has refrained from consuming it; and so in all the list of things saved.

If a man is not to have legal title or control of what he can save, he will not save. History and experience teaches this.

What have American workmen to gain by following the advice of radicals who would confiscate capital and wreck industry? Nothing but unemployment and misery.—Industrial Bureau.

A CASE OF EVERYBODY.

Everybody walks the streets of this town. Everybody sees bits of paper and refuse on the street—possibly everybody helps to put them there. Everybody thinks they are unsightly and should be removed, but everybody waits for everybody else to do it.

Now if everybody would make a point of picking up this refuse we would have a more slightly town, and everybody would take pride in living in a place which everybody helps to keep clean. Let's everybody get busy for the benefit of everybody else.

FOREIGNERS—GOOD AND BAD.

In this country we have millions of foreigners—English, French, German, Austrian, Italian, Belgian, Swedish, Norwegian, Greek, Turkish, Japanese, Chinese, and of every other nationality. The great majority of these foreigners are conscientious and law-abiding citizens. They work.

There is also in this country another class of foreigners. They constitute the minority. They are not law-abiding, and they are not citizens. THEY AGITATE.

Because of the wild-eyed bolshevistic vaporings of these anarchistic wind-jammers and destroyers our country of late has been in a constant state of turmoil. This continual unrest and uncertainty are curtailing production, undermining efficiency and alienating the loyalty of many good men. It must cease.

Labor and capital must get together on a sane and reasonable working basis, where the division of profits will be fair to both sides. But this will never be accomplished by allowing a braying minority to usurp the authority which belongs to a sane majority.

Men of intelligence and integrity do not care to take orders from illiterate and irresponsible foreigners whose only claims to leadership are a misguided conscience and a pair of leather lungs. Brains, not noise, must prevail if we are to live in peace and plenty.

Yes, the things we want most are those that are hardest to get. When we hear people talk of the price of clothing, we immediately want a new suit. If it's the soaring of sugar they mention, we have a yearning for sweets, and if it's the high cost of living in general we get as hungry as a bear and look around to see what else we want. You, too.

Judging from reports from political headquarters, most of the virtue, energy, and political sagacity in the United States is centered in either Mr. Harding or Mr. Cox—according to whether you are a rep. or a dem. This business of candidating is great stuff—until the jar comes.

A Fremont (Neb.) man punched another fellow on the jaw, knocked him end for end, fractured the jaw, and was warmly thanked by his victim. It was a prompt and effective method of separating him from a live wire which he had grasped and could not let go.

A New Orleans structural iron worker took his five-months-old baby out on a girder on the fourteenth story of a new skyscraper and held it in his arms while a frightened preacher performed the christening ceremony. They got their names in print, but not in this sheet.

A bolt of lightning stripped the shoes from a Mississippi woman's feet without as much as even scorching her silk stockings. If they were of the new-fangled chicken wire mesh variety we can readily understand why even a bolt of lightning would pass them by.

In this country all men are born free and equal, and they remain so until the Lord, the devil, or the jailer claims them.

ADVERTISING

Produces Profits

MR. BUSINESS MAN:

Your ordinary run of custom pays all of your overhead expenses and leaves you a reasonable profit—without advertising, you say.

Very good.

But suppose you advertise systematically and judiciously in this paper. Your sales will be MATERIALLY INCREASED. Your overhead expenses remain the same.

You are AHEAD the entire difference between the sale price and the wholesale price of the goods. Your profits thereby become VERY MUCH LARGER.

This paper reaches nearly everybody in this whole community. They will all see your ad and know what you have to offer. You will secure customers you have never known before.

The small expense of the ad is a minor consideration. Think it over seriously. We'll talk to you later.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

DRYING VEGETABLES.

Various dried or evaporated vegetables may be used in cookery in most of the ways in which fresh materials are employed. They may find their widest usefulness, however, in soup mixtures or in the preparation of the popular old-fashioned vegetable dinner. Drying permits the serving of any favorite vegetable combination at any and all seasons of the year. The various vegetables after drying may be mixed in definite proportions prior to storage, or they may be stored separately and mixed when used.

For those who wish to make a vegetable mixture that will have the maximum food value and at the same time be as nearly as possible a complete or balanced ration, the formulas used in making evaporated soup mixtures for the British armies may serve as guides. One of these mixtures contains 20 per cent each of potatoes, turnips, and peas, 17 per cent each of carrots and beans, and 6 per cent of onions. In another, the combination is 37 per cent of potatoes, 19 per cent each of carrots and turnips, 10 per cent each of onions and cabbage, and 2½ per cent each of beans and peas.

Differ from Prepared Product
The dried vegetable soup mixtures on sale differ principally from these formulas in having in most instances a larger percentage of potato, in the absence of beans and peas, and in having various minor additions, such as beets, celery, radishes, and tomatoes.

In making up combinations of dried vegetables, the housekeeper should remember that the mixtures must subsequently be soaked and cooked as a unit, and only vegetables that absorb water and cook at approximately equal rates can be successfully combined in a dry condition. Such materials as the root vegetables, cabbage, celery, tomatoes, and onions behave alike, both in their absorption of water and in cooking, according to specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. Any desired combination can be made from them.

Dried corn and mature peas and beans absorb water very much more slowly and must be cooked from two to three times as long as materials in the list just given. For this reason they can not be mixed with other vegetables before soaking. Instead, they should be separated, soaked, and partly cooked. Then the other vegetables desired in the mixture, after previous soaking, may be added and the whole cooked until done.

How to Dry Vegetables

Practically all vegetables, after being sliced or otherwise made ready for the drier, should be blanched from one to three minutes in boiling water or steam before drying. They should then be drained, and spread in a very thin layer on the shelves of the drier. From time to time the trays should be withdrawn and the contents carefully stirred so the product will dry evenly.

When thoroughly dry the product should be removed from the drier and placed in a dark airy room free from insects. Stir occasionally during the several days it is left there to cure. Then heat carefully again for a few minutes and store in tin cans, heavy pasteboard boxes, or paraffined bags. Cover tightly to exclude insects and store in a room which is warm and dry.

Equal to the Occasion.

NATIONWIDE FIGHT AGAINST DISEASE

American Red Cross Will Have Health Centers in All Parts of United States.

The American Red Cross has launched upon a nation wide campaign of fighting disease and physical defect among the American people. A new and unique health institution has come into being as the result of several months' study by the Red Cross Health Service Department at National Headquarters.

Officials in charge of the department predict that before long this new health activity will be in actual operation all over the country, and that the sign—"American Red Cross Health Center"—will become as familiar to the people everywhere as are now the signs of the telephone companies.

Busy Long Before War.

The interest of the American Red Cross in the fight against disease is not, however, of recent origin. Long before the war the organization began this health service through its medical units in disaster relief work and its department of Town and County Nursing. During the war and following the armistice thousands of American Red Cross officials have been fighting disease in the war-stricken countries. At the same time tens of thousands of local Red Cross officials have been engaged at home fighting disease, notably during the influenza epidemics.

The American Red Cross has determined that all this valuable experience in health service abroad and at home shall not go to waste. So long as there are a half a million people dying yearly in this country from preventable causes, and so long as more than one-third of the American children and young people are victims of physical defects, the Red Cross recognizes the urgent need for continued Red Cross health service at home.

How Organization Works.

The Red Cross Health Center is governed by business principles, applies business methods, and, in its more simple form, can be established and conducted by lay people.

It proceeds upon the demonstrated fact that health is a commodity that can be bought and sold like brooms and soap. Therefore, it establishes itself in a storeroom in the principal business section of the community. It displays its goods in the form of attractive health exhibits in its show windows. It advertises constantly and extensively. And it uses every business and social device to attract customers.

The Red Cross Health Center is of service to the sick in that it gives out reliable and complete information about existing clinics, hospitals, sanatoria and other institutions for the sick and the defective; about available nurses, both trained and practical; about when to consult a physician and why to shun the quack and his nostrums.

Teaching Disease Prevention.

The Red Cross Health Center is, however, of even greater service to the well. It teaches people how to prevent sickness and disease. This is done in many interesting and attractive ways—first of all, by the distribution of popular health literature and through health lectures illustrated with lantern slides or with health motion picture films. Then special exhibits are given, one after the other, on various health subjects. Practical demonstrations are made; also health playlets by children to interest and instruct themselves and their elders. Classes are organized in personal hygiene, home care of the sick, first aid and in food selection and preparation. Health clubs, both for younger and older people, are formed; also Little Mothers' Leagues. Nutrition and growth clinics are conducted for children.

Already more than a hundred of these Red Cross Health Centers are in actual operation throughout the country. Many of them also conduct medical clinics, but the one chief, outstanding feature of the American Red Cross Health Center is its health education service which teaches well people how to keep well.

FRENCH PRAISE FOR OUR RED CROSS WORK

Lauding the work accomplished by American philanthropy for war-stricken France, Andre Tardieu, former high commissioner from that nation to the United States, in a recent article widely commented on throughout the French press, says:

"The American Red Cross has accomplished a work which calls for the heartfelt gratitude of every true Frenchman. In 1918 this great relief organization spent in behalf of France nearly 87,000,000 francs, and in 1919 its expenditures on charitable projects in our country attained the tremendous total of 171,000,000. It has recently turned over to the French relief organizations huge stocks of supplies whose value must be counted in the hundreds of thousands of francs.

"Fifteen million American boys and girls, banded together in the Junior Red Cross of America, are back of a movement to establish the closest ties between themselves and France's younger generation through the charitable works they have financed and are now carrying out among our little war sufferers.

"The bonds of friendship between France and America is cemented with mutual admiration, respect and gratitude."

SUIT WITH FLARING COAT

Every woman ought to be able to find a becoming suit this spring because there is no great variety in accepted styles. Skirts appear to be more or less plain and straight hanging, but there is no similarity in coats. Many of them fit quite snugly above the waist line and flare below it, others follow the box coat model, hanging in straight lines from neck to hem, and still others flare from the shoulders down, like the sprightly model pictured.

Small buttons and narrow silk braid, applied with beautiful accuracy, provide its decoration.

AMONG NEW BLOUSES

Some new blouses are prettily trimmed with strips of velvet ribbon attached to the neck or bust line with an ornament. They are tacked at intervals and sometimes extended into loops that fall over the top of the skirt.

Jesus of Nazareth. It was He who said "Suffer little children to come unto me and forbid them not."

TRE PERSONE MIOINO QUANDO UN AREOPLANO PRECIPITA AL SUOLO

Tre uomini, il pilota e due passeggeri rimasero uccisi quando l'aereo precipitò al suolo da un'altezza di circa 500 piedi. I morti sono Clifford Prodder, Gus Jamieson, e John C. Nelson. Prodder era un famoso aviatore Britannico e considerato uno dei più esperti piloti del mondo. Durante la guerra guidò molte aeroplani di qualsiasi tipo.

Come l'accidente accadesse nessuno può spiegarlo, poiché nessuno dei tre poté parlare dopo la caduta.

Essi erano in aria da circa venti minuti e volavano senza incidente alcuno quando improvvisamente la macchina precipitò al suolo coda avanti.

Jamieson era stato un maestro di volo al Campo di Redwood City. Nelson era un viaggiatore di gomma. La Signora Nelson, vedova del morto era spettatrice alla tragedia.

MOLTI ATTENDONO ALL'ADUNANZA DI SHORTRIDGE AL FRATERNAL HALL

Un buon numero di presenti attese alla conferenza pro Shortridge Senatore, al Fraternal Hall Mercoledì sera.

Frank McGowan, già senatore dello Stato, della Humboldt county era l'oratore della serata e si esprime magnificamente. Il Signor McGowan pregò il votanti di mandare Shortridge al Senato degli Stati Uniti essendo egli uomo di onore, abile avvocato, eccellente tipo di cittadino ed uomo il quale conosce i bisogni della California quali pochi altri lo possano.

L'oratore dichiarò pure che Signor Shortridge è l'amico degli operai essendo egli uscito da quella classe di persone.

La Banda dei Moose rese diverse selezioni sulla pubblica via avanti la conferenza e così pure nella sala di adunanza.

IL TRAMVIA ELETTRICO PRENDESI UNA VITTIMA

C. Carmagnani, un Italiano il quale viveva al 2047 Carrol Avenue, San Francisco, fu investito da un San Mateo car vicino al Cypress Lawn Domenica scorsa, e così gravemente ferito che dovette soccombere presto Martedì mattina.

Il disgraziato traversava le rotaie e certamente non vide il tramvia che si avvicinava. E esso aveva di già passato le rotaie ma non abbastanza per impedire che il tramvia lo prendesse e lo gettasse per terra.

Il dottore R. S. Irvine testificò davanti una giuria al city hall Mercoledì mattina che gli ossi del suo volto erano tutti pressati indentro e che la di lui gamba destra era rotta in più posti.

LE SCUOLE APRONO CON PIU' FANCIULLI CHE MAI

Le scuole di South San Francisco aprirono Lunedì col più gran numero di arruolati che si sia fino a quest'ora verificato.

Si crede che fra alcune settimane molti altri alunni si presenteranno alla scuola dato che molti di essi sono ora occupati al lavoro della frutta.

La 7a e 8a classe attenderanno la scuola quest'anno nel locale della "High School" per la prima volta.

Questo darà ai fanciulli il beneficio di essere istruiti da maestri della High School.

CINQUE PERSONE SCAMPANO LA MORTE PER MIRACOLO

La famiglia Sani di South San Francisco unita al Signor W. W. Brawn pure di questa città sfuggirono miracolosamente la morte Domenica sera quando l'automobile nella quale montavano fu quasi investita ad un incrocio di strade.

La comitiva aveva passeggiato di là dalla Baia in Marin county e ritornarono circa le 10 quando all'incrocio con la ferrovia del Northwestern Pacific vicino alla High School di Tamalpais il treno improvvisò comparve da una curva.

La macchina era quasi sulla rotaie quando il Signor Brawn, il quale guidava giro il manuvio e gettò l'automobile in una fossa fonda sei piedi per fermarla e così per la sua prontezza d'occhio e di spirito poté salvare la comitiva da sicura morte.

LA CAMERA DI COMMERCIO AIUTERA' TROVARE FONDI PER L.Y. M. C. A.

ADDITIONAL SAN BRUNO NOTES. OPEN LETTER FROM TRUSTEES.

San Bruno, Calif., Aug. 24, 1920.

Fellow Citizens: The people of San Bruno are hearing a lot of talk about the purchase of the water system and we are taking this opportunity of putting the real facts and our own conclusions before the people, trusting that the strength of the truth will outweigh the vile insinuations and underhand methods employed by the opponents of this purchase.

This is the true story of the purchase: Robert H. Smith, owner of the combined three water systems, consisting of the original Belle Air, Huntington Park, and Hensley Green water plants, offered to sell to the city for $42,500. The matter was put before the trustees and on a motion of Trustee Kane, which was seconded and passed, Trustee A. S. W. Grundy was authorized to purchase the system in its entirety for an amount not to exceed this figure upon the most advantageous terms.

He took with him John F. Davis, city attorney, to watch the legal side of the transaction on behalf of the city. Trustee Grundy, feeling that he might do better than $42,500, handled the details, Mr. Davis, for the city, and Robert Hayes Smith, for the water company, being present. After much hard work and several hours of hammering the price was brought down to $37,500, to be paid by the city on the following terms: The city to take over and run the plants and hold same under a deed of trust; the titles of the property to be put in escrow until the moneys were paid by the city, when the full titles and deeds to the same would become city property forever.

These deeds are now in the First Federal Trust Company's vaults in San Francisco in escrow and a legal copy of the transaction is in the city hall. The payments are to be made as follows: $18,750 to be paid December 31, 1920, without interest, or the whole amount of $37,500 can be paid December 31, 1920, without interest. If only the $18,750 is paid December 31, 1920, the balance of $18,750 will draw 6 per cent per annum, this amount to be paid June 30, 1921. The revenue and all expenses are to be the city's affair from June 1, 1920. The amount of work done to bring this deal to a head is incidental. So much for the purchase.

Let us see what advantage this purchase is to San Bruno and what we are buying: These days, it must be remembered by everybody, that even junk has a price; that while the price is a junk price the plant is by no means junk. It is not the most up-to-date or the most efficient water supply system. It is not any other than the same old water plant that has supplied us for years. The water is just as wet and the pipes are just as bad or good as the reader may think. It is not possible to pull every bit of pipe up and value it. All any of us know is that the water must come through pipes and they must be in the streets. By measurement we know that there are over twenty miles of water pipes of varying sizes in San Bruno.

The Railroad Commission of California, who made a thorough investigation of the whole plant and had Mr. Childs on the ground here making a detailed valuation for rate-fixing purposes, put the price at $58,000 on a basis of the original cost, less heavy depreciation for wear and tear. The owner's valuation was in excess of $65,000. Do not let anybody tell you that the Railroad Commission does not know how to figure. Just go and see the detailed reports and the commission's findings and you will realize, as we have, that they do know.

But you are not asked $58,000, but $37,500. Now about the $37,500 you are asked to pay. Do you know that Mr. Smith, under the special assessment act, will have to contribute $5.36 for every lot he owns and will have to pay an amount approximately of $8000 to the advantage of San Bruno citizens, he having much unsold property still in the city?

Do you know there are four working wells between 190 and 200 feet deep, supplying you with over 100,000 gallons of water a day? Also there are five reservoirs with a combined capacity of over 120,000 gallons and three settling tanks with a combined capacity for another 40,000 gallons.

Are you aware of the fact there are three pumping stations equipped with pumps and air compressors constantly working day and night, actually supplying water for your daily consumption? Do you know that San Bruno is furnishing a better and more liberal supply of water than Burlingame and many other towns?

Are you interested in knowing there are two other wells which probably will be in operation before next year, but are now temporarily out of use? Each is nearly 200 feet deep, and we have reason to believe that they will deliver another 30,000 gallons a day to the city.

Do you know that included in this purchase are eleven parcels of real estate and the buildings on the same? Are you aware that over 300 meters have recently been installed by the order of the Railroad Commission and are included in this purchase? Do you know that the ownership of this system gives us the right to call upon the Spring Valley Water Company at any and all times when the city may be short of water? Your kind consideration of these facts will be appreciated.

The reason we favored the special assessment in preference to the bonding of the city for this amount is that we do not think it wise to further increase the bonded indebtedness of the city at this time wherever it can be avoided, in view of the fact that there are many other important things to be done which of necessity will call for bond issues. When you consider the expense of a bond election and the accumulative interest and heavy depreciation, it is safe to say the same purchase would run probably over $75,000. This method of direct assessment adds a public utility, increases the assets of our town, and gives us a standing among modern progressive cities.

SAN BRUNO WILL HAVE NIGHT SCHOOL THIS YEAR

Word has been received at San Bruno that night school would be held here this term in conjunction with San Mateo high school. An attempt was made last term to secure this school, but because San Bruno was not at that time a part of the San Mateo district it could not be arranged. Those desiring to enter the school are requested to enter Monday evening at the Edgemont school. Thirty-five have already registered. Many different courses of study are offered.

"PACIFIC SERVICE" to Its Electric Power Consumers:

The following order, No. 113, effective as of August 19th, has been issued by the Power Administrator of the Railroad Commission of the State of California:

- (1) The use of electric energy for power purposes, except domestic use and use in connection with growing crops and handling of perishable foods, shall be reduced 20 per cent.
- (2) The use of electric energy for the irrigation of vacant lands and of lands from which crops have already been harvested shall not be permitted during the present shortage.
- (3) The attention of consumers of power for the irrigation of growing crops shall be called to the fact that unless a large reduction is voluntarily made drastic restrictions will become necessary.
- (4) The power companies shall direct the attention of the city officials in their territory to the fact that electric energy used in street, sign and display lighting is being lost for productive purposes, and shall urge them to restrict this use as far as may be consistent with public safety.
- (5) The above reductions in the use of electric energy shall be made, as far as possible, between the hours of 7 a. m. and 10 p. m.

We respectfully urge our consumers to realize the importance of this order, which applies to all power companies operating in North-Central California. It has been made necessary by the shortage of water power occasioned by the unusual drought and consequent extreme diminution of stream-flow in the power sources of the State, to say nothing of the constantly growing demand for power for agricultural, industrial and other purposes.

We ask our consumers to assist the Power Administrator and ourselves in prompt compliance with this order, so that the various industries relying upon electric power for their operation and maintenance may not be called upon to suffer a further reduction of supply before the close of the present dry season.

HIDES ARE DOWN; SHOES STILL UP

Cattlemen are still wondering when the price of shoes will begin to reflect the fact that the hide and skin market has been demoralized for several months, the price levels in many localities having long since reached pre-war levels. Federal figures show that stocks of hides have increased heavily during the past year, resulting in almost ruinous prices to producers.

The cattle industry is passing through a critical period, according to reports from prominent cattlemen, due to short pastures and high feed prices without a corresponding increase in the price of beef.

WILLIAM DUNCAN

It is only natural that William Duncan should be the hero of hundreds of thrilling escapes and strenuous rescues in Vitagraph's famous serials. His physique and early training particularly fitted him for just such a career. He completed his education at the University of Pennsylvania, where he took a prominent part in college field games and athletics. He became athletic instructor and toured the country at the head of his own dramatic company before becoming a serial star and director.

THE BEACON

By GENEVIEVE ULMAR

(Copyright, 1929, Western Newspaper Union)

"Brampton!"

As the conductor called out the name, two of the five passengers in the rear coach arose and made their way to the door.

The man who had sat lost in somber abstraction was the first to reach it. A drive of rain made him pause. Then he noticed that a young girl was close in his lead. He stepped to the depot platform and caught her arm.

"It is pouring a torrent," he said, "you will be soaked through if you do not gain shelter speedily."

A dismal lamp showed against a building half a hundred feet away. The girl did not resent the courtesy of a stranger and joined him in a dash down the platform. The depot was locked up and there was not a sign of life of habitation in its vicinity. The eaves were narrow and dripping.

"Wait here," spoke her companion and went to a window, raised it, climbed inside and unscrewed the lock of the door and lighted a lamp.

"This way, miss," he called to the girl. "Dismal inside and out. Do you know anything about this uncivilized spot?"

"Oh, yes," replied the girl animatedly. "There are no houses here for it is only a little way station, but my home is a mile distant."

"A mile in this howling tempest!" uttered the man. "It might quite as well be ten, child! Are you chilly? There is a stove here I see. I will look around and find out if there is a coal bin or woodpile handy."

He strode down the platform and examined a box with a hinged cover. It contained kindling and coal. Then he let the cover drop with a sudden crash, for from the depot there echoed a sharp ringing cry. Through the window of the lighted room he made out the figure of the girl struggling with the uncouth figure of a man in trampish attire.

Evan Rogers sent her despoiler whirling through the open doorway and the fellow made off promptly. Rogers hastened to the side of the girl, who, pale and perturbed, came close to him as if grateful for his protection. Then after two visits to the coal box he had a roaring fire in the stove. The reaction from exposure and the shock of her recent adventure had overcome the girl. Her rescuer walked over towards the window and peered out grimly.

It was a desolate prospect without, but in accord with his life, and Rogers was so engrossed in mentally surveying the circumstances that had brought him to this dreary spot that he almost forgot the girl.

He had come hither on a strange mission. Twenty years previous he had married Alice Hilde. He was young, improvident, reckless. Within two years he had trifled away her little fortune. There had been a final stormy scene. Her brother, cold, loveless, had reproached Rogers with his misdoings, had taken his sister to his own home and the next day had written a brief note to Rogers. It ran: "Alice hopes never to see your face again, but if you are a man you will go to work to repay the little fortune you have misappropriated and wasted."

Dominated by her brother, the wife never sent a further word to her husband. Rogers later heard that a little child was born. He became a changed man, accepting his dismissal as just. He was too proud to sue for forgiveness, and discerned that his wife's brother amid his hatred for him had blocked the way to any reconciliation.

At the end of each year Rogers had sent to the brother of his wife a certain sum. The last payment that marked the return to his wife of every dollar he had spent, had been made only a month since. From the attorney who acted for the brother he received a brief letter telling that he was dead and suggested that he see his wife.

Was it thus guardedly that the lawyer indicated that the death of the brother removed a barrier that had through the years prevented a reconciliation? Evan Rogers mused so long that before he turned from his absorbing thoughts the storm had cleared and the girl stood at his side.

"The roads will be bad to Alden, where I presume you are going," she said, "but half the distance is my home. You will be very welcome to become our guest."

Rogers acquiesced in the arrangement. She was the guide now. A mile accomplished, she indicated a light in a house somewhat off from the road.

"It is mother's light in the window for me," she told Rogers cheerily. How kind you have been to me! how mother will appreciate your caring for me amid storm and peril! I shall tell her you are Mr.—?

"Evan Rogers."

The girl halted with a sharp gasp. She reeled so that her companion caught her arm to steady her.

"And I am Evaline Rogers," she quavered, "Oh, father! is heaven's hand in all this? The lawyer told mother you might come. And she—oh, dear father! she has so longed for you, and the light of the window is for both of us. Come."

She took his hand and led him forward toward the glowing light and into paradise regained.

How Many Homes Have You Paid For?

And how many homes do you own today? Recently a man came into our office that had decided years ago to apply his rent money toward the payment of a house. He soon rented the house to another fellow and his rent paid the balance on the house. He bought himself another one and another one, until today he owns several homes and has quit work. The rent money he now collects means a substantial income to him. The future is sure, bright and smiling for his wife and children.

Rent day never comes around to the man who owns his own Home.

A deed to your home is the best form of life insurance you can have.

We will build you a house to order, exactly as you plan it and upon a lot that suits your ideas. A small payment down and your rent money will pay for it. The man who owns his own home not only saves rent but makes money on the increased value in his property.
